OUR JUROR

Darren White

Darren White was born and raised on the Oregon Coast where his love for beautiful landscapes began. In 1999, Darren moved to Portland, Oregon, and soon fell in love with the mountains and Columbia River Gorge areas. In July of 2013, Darren made a huge move to Littleton, Colorado, where he has quickly fell in love with the majestic mountains Colorado has to offer and the outdoor life Colorado is known for.

Darren has been published in various magazines like Popular Photography, Columbia Gorge Magazine, and had a mention in National Geographic Traveler. Most recently, Darren was published on the cover of Outdoor Photographer magazine with an article inside the November 2021 issue. His prints have been sold worldwide and used for all kinds of media from Websites to Trade Show Backdrops. Darren has had his work used by Craft Beer Alliance, Microsoft, and Samsung. Darren has also worked with several interior designers including PS Art Consulting and Snyder and Co. While Darren enjoys creating compelling images through photography, he also likes to take some artistic liberties when a certain image calls for it, or he has a vision in his mind that he'd like to create through the use of his own images.

Darren enjoys a variety of outdoors activities which include but are not limited to, hiking, biking, running, night photography, trail running, climbing steep hills and simply just being amazed at what nature can produce!
